

Interior designers and residential design firms ... #GetYourGreenOn

Thank you for entering the Sustainable Furnishings Council's second annual #GetYourGreenOn interior design competition! This awards program honors interior designers and design firms that specify sustainable and healthful home furnishings for their clients' residences.

Both SFC-member and non-member interior designers and firms are eligible to enter the competition; residential interior design projects completed between April 1, 2016, and March 31, 2017, qualify. Entries must feature at least one product from an SFC-member manufacturer or supplier — for a list of eligible brands, go to <http://bit.ly/2o3dDOS>

New in 2017: #GetYourGreenOn entrants are asked to pledge their commitment to healthy environments both inside and outside the home by taking ...

“The Pledge to ASK, ‘What’s it made of?’ ”

“The Pledge to ASK” is the first step in an initiative that encourages transparency in our supply chains, and stimulates innovation to eliminate the hazardous substances most commonly found in home furnishings, especially flame-retardant chemicals, fluorinated stain treatments, antimicrobials, vinyl, and VOCs such as formaldehyde.

Entrants will be asked to explain their efforts to reduce hazardous chemicals for their client, including their use of the SFC Supply Chain Questionnaire. The Questionnaire, which is provided by SFC as a part of The “What’s it made of?” Initiative, can be accessed at <http://bit.ly/2oewlRT>
