

The Joe Gouveia Outermost Poetry Contest

WOMR/WFMR is pleased to present the 5th annual Joe Gouveia Outermost Poetry Contest. Judge MARGE PIERCY will select the finalists for both the National and Regional categories. We are awarding $1,300 in prizes; $1,000 to the National winner and $300 to a Regional, Cape Cod-based poet.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES:

DEADLINE:

Tuesday, January 16, 2018 (postmark)

MAIL ALL ENTRIES TO:

Joe Gouveia Outermost Poetry Contest c/o WOMR
Post Office Box 975, Provincetown, MA 02657

Send up to 5 of your best unpublished poems, any style or subject matter, no more than 7 pages in total, and $15 submission fee with check made payable to: "Outermost Community Radio" with "Poetry Contest" written in the memo line of the check.

- You must include a $15 submissions check per 5 poems submitted.
- All poems MUST be single spaced; 12 point font or larger. Handwritten poems will not be considered.
- Only one poem per page. If the poem is continued on a second page, please include title of the poem on the second page, and staple both pages together. (No poem should exceed two pages.)
- Only unpublished work will be considered. If your poem has been published in any book, print or online journal, magazine or chapbook, whether self-published or not, please select something else. If you have submitted your poem to another journal – and it is published prior to December 31, 2017 – it is not eligible for the contest.
- Your name or any other identifying information must not appear anywhere on or in the poems. Instead, be sure to include a cover letter w/ name, address, phone number & email address & the titles of your poems along with the first five words of each poem.

Winners and finalists will be announced on February 13th, 2018. Announcements will be posted on The Joe Gouveia Outermost Poetry Contest Facebook page and at WOMR.org.
